I don't approve of Israel's treatment of Palestinian refugees either, but to me boycotting companies that deal with Israel is unlikely to improve their situation. Also, boycotting companies that deal with Israel sounds to me too much like boycotting companies that deal with Jews. It might put pressure on Israel, but it will also put pressure on a lot of people who have nothing to do with Israel's policies. I am a Cambridge voter. My husband, who is also a Cambridge voter, agrees with me. Thank you for your consideration.
